

BLOOD, OIL AND SAND. By Ray Block. (Cleveland and New York: The World Publishing Co., 1952. 246 pages and Index, $3.50).

Mr. Block, noted war-time correspondent in the Middle East, gives us an interesting account of the current situation in that troubled area. Paramount among its problems is the struggle of the powers for its oil, complicated by the factors of internal instability and resurgent nationalism. This situation, Mr. Block feels, will lead to the outbreak in the not too distant future of another war. He is frankly critical of United States foreign policy, which he considers responsible for the deterioration of the western position in the Middle East.

GENERAL INTEREST

AMERICA AND THE MIND OF EUROPE.

Edited by Lewis Galantiere. (New York: Library Publishers, 1952. 125 pages, $2.75).

This nation, in the position of world leadership thrust upon it by the exigencies of the post-war period, must ask itself the question: What do Europeans think of the United States? Some of the answers to this question may be found in this little book which examines post-war intellectual developments in Europe with particular reference to the attitude of the European intellectual toward the United States.

SHANGHAI CONSPIRACY. By Charles A. Willoughby. (New York: E. P. Dutton & Co., Inc., 1952. 315 pages and Introduction, $3.75).

This study of Far Eastern Russian espionage is written by Gen. MacArthur's Chief of Intelligence. It is based on the Soviet espionage ring headed by Dr. Sorge, which was uncovered in Japan just before Pearl Harbor. The book tells the story of this ring, and one-third of the book is composed of Dr. Sorge's own story, as written in a Japanese prison. Gen. Willoughby shows how the same pattern is being repeated today in the Orient. He points up the link between what he discovered during his investigations and the Communists in the United States. He feels that the influence of these Communists, fellow-travelers and "prostituted liberals" accounts for our present China policy.
